CORIO WASTE MANAGEMENT PTY LTD ACQUIRES WHITFORD LIQUID WASTE

Effective Friday 1 March 2024 Corio Waste Management Pty Ltd will take over ownership of Whitford Liquid Waste. From this date, nothing will change for Whitford Liquid Waste customers, who will continue to receive the regularity and timeless standards they have come to expect.

Corio Waste CEO, Mathew Dickens says:

“Whitford Liquid Waste has been successful because of Richard and his son Jason’s entrepreneurial skills, their ability to develop strong long-term relationships with their customers and suppliers, maintain consistently high service standards and provide customers with flexibility, choice and value-added services. This acquisition expands our geographic reach into Ballarat and our capabilities as a diversified waste services business.”

Although Jason will no longer be involved in the day-to-day operations of the business post-acquisition, he will be available to help during the integration.

The operations of the business will continue from Delacombe, and customers will be invoiced by Corio Waste Management Pty Ltd from 1 March 2024 onwards.

About Corio Waste Management Pty. Ltd.

Corio Waste Management Pty Ltd (CWM) was established in 1996 and takes its name from Corio Bay in the southwest corner of Port Phillip. The company is headquartered in Geelong and supplies waste management and hygiene services to customers in the Geelong region and Melbourne metropolitan area.

CWM operates mainly in the solid waste collection services and liquid waste collection services industries. The company also generates revenue from other industries, such as selling paper, paperboard and metals, waste treatment and disposal and washroom services. Employing over 60 workers, CWM operates more than 40 vehicles, 2 depots in Moolap and Altona, and an organic waste processing facility in Shepparton and Bendigo through a related entity.

About Whitford Liquid Waste

Whitford Liquid Waste was established by Richard and Dianne Whitford in 1973 and their son Jason Whitford is the current Director. It has a reputation for delivering service quality and variety. The business collects liquid waste such as triple interceptor waste, contaminated stormwater, organic chemicals, car and truck washwaters, fire washwaters, liquid organic waste (including commercial food), grease trap waste, sludges and slurries and provides specialised services including drain inspections and cleaning, high pressure water cleaning, hydro excavation and emergency response.
